National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment
A frontal zone will move only slowly northeastwards through the region overnight Thursday into Friday. Expect 10-15 mm of rain quite widely and locally 20-30 mm in wettest areas. The public should be aware of the risk of local flooding and possible disruption to travel. The rain is expected to gradually clear from the southwest during Friday morning.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 00:05 on Fri, 12th Oct 2012 until 09:00 on Fri, 12th Oct 2012

Rain is expected to continue on Thursday night, and into Friday morning. The rain will be persistent and heavy at times, and may well lead to some flooding in places with disruption to travel. The rain will gradually clear from the southwest.
